EPIDEMIC IS NEW FEAR IN STORM AREA

All Workers Vaccinated Against Typhoid; Known Dead 400

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Sanitation, movement of refugees out of the storm area and efforts to locate and recover the bodies of unaccounted dead today occupied the attention of workers endeavoring to rehabilitate the southeastern Florida coast section hit Saturday by a hurricane.

Every effort was being made to get into the district medicines needed to prevent serious epidemics. Typhoid and malarial fever have been ordered evacuated by all except workers needed to clean up or search for bodies.

All workers or persons remaining in the district are required to be vaccinated against typhoid.

Known Dead Over 400
The known death list from the hurricane stood today at more than 400 with the possibility that Moorehaven, agricultural city on the banks of Lake Okechobee, might have more deaths than Miami. A total of 110 bodies have been recovered at Moorehaven. Probably 200 more were killed there according to Col. A. J. Lowrey, Jr., of Tampa in charge of troops there.

Known deaths in all sections struck by the storm today stood at exactly 400. This number of bodies have been reported recovered.

The United States destroyer Downe left Charleston, S. C., last night, planning to travel 25 knots an hour until she reached Miami with a large quantity of serum. The Cassin is due to leave today with a cargo of supplies.

Plans for rebuilding the destroyed buildings already are being made. The National Board of Fire Underwriters of New York is sending its staff of adjusters to Miami to assist local underwriters and public adjusters in classifying and paying off insurance losses estimated at $6,000,000 to $10,000,000.

RELIEF WELL IN HAND
Jacksonville, Fla., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Governor Martin stated on his arrival here today from the storm swept area that he did not regard an extraordinary session of the Florida legislature as necessary to appropriate funds for relief work.

"I do not believe the extra session necessary," he said. "Florida through the co-operation of the American Red Cross, has the relief work well in hand and in my opinion an extraordinary session of the legislature would be useless."

ILLINOISANS SENT HOME
Jacksonville, Fla., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Among refugees from the Florida hurricane district, whose homes are in Illinois and who are being sent home today are the following: Mrs. Arch Hise and three children, Decatur; Clarence Lynn, Metropolis; Mrs. John Donkers and two children, Freeport; Norman Sutton, Christopher; Mrs. L. C. Branch, Moline; Mrs. M. Durham and daughter, Benton and Katy McKenzie, Herrin.

Aged Dixon Woman Died This Morning

Mrs. Elmina Augusta Jackson, aged 80, died at 11 o'clock this morning at the home of her brother, W. D. Baum, 613 Hannan avenue, death resulting from the infirmities of her age. Funeral services will be held at the Baum residence at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning. Rev. A. W. Carlson, pastor of the Methodist church officiating, and the body will be taken to Syracuse, N. Y. for burial, leaving here tomorrow afternoon. The obituary of Mrs. Jackson, who is survived by her brother W. D. Baum, and a sister, Mrs. Belle Morris, both of Dixon, will be published later.

Scouts Invited to Bloomington Assn.

Dixon Boy Scouts who have anticipated the trip to Campagna next week to witness the Coe-Ilinois football game, opening contest of the season, will rejoice to learn of an addition to the traveling plans made public this morning. It was originally planned to have the boys spend one night at a hotel at Bloomington, and this expense has been lessened by receipt of an invitation from the Y. M. C. A. at that city for the local boys to spend the night in the Y building. The Dixon Scouts have been invited to make use of the gymnasium of the association for the night.

This will necessitate each boy carrying his bedding pack, and each Scout will be required to pay for four meals at a rate of about fifty cents each. Scouts desiring to make the trip are requested to notify "Larry" Tibbitts or "Bue" Smith as soon as possible.

Dixonites Have Contributed $234 to Storm Sufferers

At noon today a total of $234 had been contributed to the storm relief fund being raised by The Dixon Evening Telegraph for succor of victims of Saturday's terrible storm in Florida, many checks and cash contributions having been made this morning. Again the plea is made for prompt action on the part of prospective donors to this great work of mercy, for money is needed much more now than it will be later. One dollar now will be as welcome as many times that amount in weeks to come. Contributions to The Telegraph fund up until noon today were:

Mrs. Rasmussen was born in Franklin Grove in 1882, going from there in infancy with her parents to Chicago, where she had made her home.

Sterling Man is Fined for Passing Bad Check

Cecil R. Seeley of Sterling was fined $50 and costs and a jail sentence of 60 days in the county jail this morning, when he was taken into the county court before Judge William L. Leech, on an information charging him with drawing checks to defraud. Peter McCoy of this city was the complainant upon whom the worthless check was passed.

In addition to the sentence, Seeley drew a severe reprimand from the court and by his pleadings, secured a stay of sentence for a few days, while an investigation is being made by Judge Leech. He was ordered to pay the fine and costs, and make restitution for the amount of the worthless check at once, the sixty day sentence in the county jail being suspended pending a further investigation.

Chicago Kiwanians Well Pleased Here

About 70 of the delegates took dinner at the Nachusa Tavern and spent some time in the city.

BULLETIN

Philadelphia, Sept. 23.—(AP)—At 3:30 o'clock this afternoon weather prospects were almost ideal for the Dempsey-Tunney fight. The sun continued to shine and the air was warm.

Philadelphia, Sept. 23.—(AP)—With the legal atmosphere cleared by the dismissal of all injunction moves and the weather clearing after a morning of intermittent showers, the Dempsey-Tunney heavyweight championship battle apparently had hurdled all of its eleventh hour obstacles.
At 2 p. m. the sun came out to dry the dampened rows of seats at the stadium, scene of tonight's battle, and warmed the multitude of fans making up the most spectacular jam that ever accompanied a sporting event anywhere.

Three railroads, their facilities taxed to the limit, estimated they already had handled 90,000 arrivals. On this basis it seemed that close to 200,000 fans, altogether would figure in the final crush to fill the arena to its capacity of 132,000.

Start "Push" to Arena.
There was no prospect of more than a threatening weather gesture for the rest of the day and the crowds began their "big push" toward the arena where the fight preliminaries start at 8 p. m. with the championship bout slated for 9:30 or 9:45. The big corps of ticket handlers, ushers and police prepared to let the advance guard into the stadium at 3 o'clock.
The arrival of the challenger, Gene Tunney by airplane from his training camp added a colorful episode to the day's excitement, but also sent a few shivers down the spine of Tex Rickard, contemplating the resulting risk to his record investment of nearly $2,000,000.

Dempsey was not expected to arrive before evening. He was to make the trip in a special car from Atlantic City.

Dempsey Weighs 190.
Dempsey became an even stronger favorite to defend his title after it became known that he had scaled 190 pounds at Atlantic City. This was an advantage of four and a half pounds over the challenger who scaled 184½ pounds here. It was within two pounds of Dempsey's weight when he won the crown from Jess Willard seven years ago and indicated the champion was in fine trim.
Wagers were reported at odds of as high as 4 to 1 on Dempsey with little Tunney money in sight. The bulk of bets were made on the basis of a knockout victory for the title holder.

MORE DIXONITES REPORTED SAFE AFTER HURRICANE

Sutterlin's Plant Was Destroyed; Barley Family O. K.

Gradually Dixon friends and relatives of Florida residents are receiving word from them, and in every case thus far reported to The Telegraph none of the kin of Lee county people has been injured. But many report loss of property in Saturday's terrible hurricane.

The Frank Sutterlin family, residents of Hialeah, a suburb of Miami, where the storm struck with its worst severity, escaped injury, but their ice plant was completely destroyed by the hurricane, word received late Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hauser has also received word of the safety of her sister, Mrs. James Barley and husband, who are residents of Fort Lauderdale. Their down town business property was demolished, however, and their residence also suffered considerable damage.

Lee county residents are happy to learn that Citrus county, in which many local people are interested, escaped the storm; and damage on the West Coast was nominal.

The scene of destruction at the Flagger bridge at Miami is of more than passing interest locally. Stanley Baker, former Dixon restaurant proprietor, resided a distance of 100 feet from the Flagger street bridge shown in the picture in the Telegraph last evening. His house was built, the rear resting on two cement piers in the river and the front facing the bank. No word has been received from Mr. Baker, who enjoys a wide acquaintance in this locality.

Dr. Warren G. Murray has received word from his sister and husband, who were in the tropical storm at Miami, Fla., Saturday, stating that they are well and have taken up temporary residence at Jacksonville.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Lehman of White Rock this morning received a

HUNT GRAY SEDAN IN BLOOMINGTON JEWEL ROBBERY

$4,000 in Gems Taken from Automobile at Golf Club

Bloomington, Ill., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Police were engaged yesterday in trying to solve the mystery of the "gray sedan," and with it the theft of almost $4,000 worth of jewelry belonging to Mrs. A. G. Jarmine and Mrs. C. H. Fulton, of 3901 North Hamilton Ave., Chicago, from the sedan belonging to Mr. Fulton, at the Bloomington Country Club yesterday morning. The jewelry was taken from the pocketbooks which were left by the two women when they went to play golf.

Entrance to the car was gained by forcing down the rear window. Both pocketbooks were rifled and found thrown away in the bushes at the side of the car and a gentleman's gold stick pin set with a solitaire diamond valued at $200, which was in the loot was found near the purse.

The gray sedan figures in the robbery as a link in the chain of evidence which will probably lead to the apprehension of the thieves.

Left Jewels in Auto

Both women wore their jewelry to a dinner Tuesday night and to a show following and when they went to the country club Wednesday morning to play golf they took off their rings and left them in their purses in the car.

From Mrs. Jarmine's purse was taken $23 in money, one $20 bill and three $3 bills, one platinum ring set with a large sapphire and nine diamonds valued at $750; another platinum ring set with a large diamond and nine or ten small diamonds valued at $1,200; a gold stick pin set with a solitaire diamond valued at $200.

Mrs. Fulton's purse contained $50 in money, one solitaire platinum ring valued at $750; one ring with a diamond and two sapphires valued at $150.

Mrs. J. E. Kavadas and son Lawrence of Freeport were Dixon callers Wednesday.

TUNNEY FLEW TO SCENE OF BOUT THIS MORNING

Smiling and Cheerful as He Crawled Out of the Machine

Navy Yard, Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Completing a spectacular jump to the scene of his battle with Jack Dempsey tonight, Gene Tunney arrived here by airplane this afternoon.

The challenger, in a Curtis Orle plane piloted by C. E. "Casey" Jones of New York, landed safely after a hop of approximately 100 miles from Shawnee-on-the-Delaware, not far from his training camp at Stroudsburg.

The plane bearing Tunney landed at 1:15 p. m., making the trip in one hour and 25 minutes.

The landing was made after the "ship" had circled the vicinity of the navy yard and also flown over the Sesqui-Centennial Stadium, fight battleground.

Smiling and cheerful, Tunney crawled from his seat to be greeted by about 200 onlookers including most of the employees of the navy air craft factory.

Pretty Wedding of Wednes. Chronicled

Polo, Ill., Sept. 23.—The marriage of Miss Ada Irene Wehmeyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wehmeyer, of Brookville to Earnest Kracht, son of Mr. and Mrs. August Kracht, 828 South Adams avenue, Freeport, was solemnized at 12 o'clock Wednesday at the bride's home. The Rev. S. G. Eberly, pastor of the United Evangelical church of Polo performed the ceremony.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Nina Gloss, Freeport, cousin of the bride, sang "At Dawning." She was accompanied by Miss Pauline Donaldson who played Lohengrin's "Wedding March" as the bridal party enters the living room. During the ceremony, Miss Donaldson played "Melody of Love."

The corner of the room where the ceremony was performed was decorated with ferns, goldenrod and snow on the mountain, which carried out the color scheme of yellow and white. Miss Gladys Wehmeyer, sister of the bride, as maid of honor, and Carl Kracht, brother of the groom, as best man, attended the couple.

The bride wore a gown of white georgette and silver lace over satin. She carried a shower bouquet of tea roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor was attired in a frock or orchid taffeta and carried a French bouquet.

Upon their return from a trip to Chicago, Mr. Kracht and his bride will make their home in Freeport where he is employed at Hofer's Mfg. Co.

Blondes, Beware of Poor Colors

Hollywood, Cal. —(AP)—Blondes who would continue to be preferred, should never select colors that overshadow their personality. Claire Windsor, screen actress, puts her name under that advice.

"Blondes have a much harder time in selecting their colors than their brunette sisters," Claire says. "It's too easy for a blonde to select colors that put her personality in the background by their vividness."

Here are a few tricks which experience has taught her.

"The ash blonde should select colors that reflect the light, but which are not vivid. A cross between baby blue and electric blue is ideal for this type of fair-skinned femininity. Shell pink also is good. It throws a pleasing reflection to the face, yet does not detract from the personality."

"Golden blondes find the color problem easier. All the warm colors are attractive. Deep yellow, pink of all shades, even red, when used judiciously, become the golden-haired woman."

Activities at National Kindergarten College

Miss Mildred Jacobson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Jacobson, 209 N. Galena Ave., registered this week as a sophomore in the National Kindergarten and Elementary College, Evanston, and Miss Winifred Jones, daughter of Mrs. Cella A. Jones, has enrolled for the first year in the same college.

The enrollment in the freshman class this fall is the largest in the history of the College, and although there is no immediate danger of overcrowding Harrison Hall, the new $500,000 building of the College, a forty per cent increase in the enrollment of out-of-town students has made necessary the provision of an additional dormitory for the accommodation of many of the students.

Representatives of thirty-two states and six foreign countries, including

R Bulgaria, Poland, Sweden, China, British West Indies and Canada, are registered in the College this year. A Sunday afternoon tea in Marienthal, the main dormitory, smaller parties in the individual dormitory apartments, and a reception for new students in Harrison Hall, have given the young women an opportunity of becoming acquainted with one another and with the members of the faculty.

A luncheon at noon today was to have Mrs. W. F. Rothenburger of Springfield, National President of the Council of Ministers' Wives, as toast-mistress and honor guest. A business session, to precede and follow the luncheon was under direction of Mrs. William A. Askew, president of the state council.

DISREGARDED.

Congressman John Q. Tilson of Connecticut, Republican leader in the House of Representatives, thinks there will be no congressional reapportionment until after the 1930 census.

High as he is in the councils of the party now in control of the government, Tilson doubtless knows what he's talking about, for the present at least.

Without stopping to give the subject a little consideration, probably very few people will realize how unfair this is.

There are, as Congress is constituted today, 435 members of the lower house. The theory is that the population is divided by 435 and a congressman represents each quotient.

Obviously, as the country grows, there will be sectional variations, unless the whole country increases in population at the same relative rate, which is not to be expected and which is not to be expected and which it does not.

The constitution's framers accordingly provided for a reapportionment, following each decennial census, which also was provided for.

This rule was followed, with the exception of a break during the Civil War, when a census was missed, due to circumstances over which the federal government plainly had no control—until 6 years ago.

There was a reapportionment following the 1910 census and congressmen still are being elected and re-elected on that basis. There was a census in 1920 but no reapportionment ensued. Congress simply has disregarded it. Why?

Well, since 1910 population has increased in the urban much faster than it has increased in the rural districts.

In 1910 it was predominantly rural. Today it is predominantly urban.

Yet the rural population still rules, though in a minority.

One of two things must happen, with a reapportionment: Either urban districts would get enough extra congressmen to gain control, increasing the size of the House of Representatives by nearly 60 members, mostly from the cities, or, if the house remains at its present number, the urban districts will gain representation and the rural districts will lose representation correspondingly.

The readjustment may be desirable or it may not, but the constitution calls for it, at any rate.

Congressman Tilson doesn't question that this is the case. He adds that he favors compliance. But suppose Congress tells the Founding Fathers, in this instance, to go hunt a warmer climate! What's to be done about it? Nothing. Congress can't be penalized. It simply disregards the fundamental law—and that's that.

Rural representation, in control, declines to surrender it. Congressman Tilson seems to think it will do so following the census of 1930. It's hard to see why it will be any readier to do so then, than following the census of 1920. It's violating the constitution now. Why should it feel differently 4 years hence, or 14 years, or 24 years, or ever?

You'll never have a chance in this world unless take one.

Her Own Way

A STORY OF A GIRL OF TODAY

JUDY MUST DECIDE

I looked at Joan Meredith rather curiously. I wondered just what her reaction was to this affair which was rapidly becoming rather hectic between her brother and me.

She, however, smiled and said, "Don't you worry, Judy. I think it is splendid for you to interest John. You have changed his whole outlook on life. But my dear, I know you love power and because you love it more than anything else in the world you are tempted to keep on without any regard for my poor brother's feelings."

I vehemently shook my head. But even as I did so I said to myself, "By the gesture I am telling an untruth" and I thought the blood rushed to my face. I did not deceive Joan in the least, however, for she said, mischievously, "Don't shake your head, Judy. I have learned today that almost any woman would be tempted to annex Jack. Any woman in this day when every man is supposed to have lived before he comes to the point where he asks any woman to become his wife would certainly have a thrill if she could be sure of knowing that she was absolutely a man's first love; not only his first love, but almost the only woman to whom he had ever spoken in social terms, that as far as he was concerned she was to him as Eve in the Garden."

"But— you see there is always a 'but' dear, you know, do you not, that John must not be hurt, consequently you, Judy, must decide quickly whether you love him enough to marry him or whether you love Jerry Hathaway."

"But, you see, Joan, I too have to interject that word 'but'—your brother has not asked me to marry him." "Don't beg to question, Judy, surely I don't have to tell you, that not only you but almost any other woman can get a man to marry her if she wants him to do so; and in the case of Jack I am sure that you have already had to shy away to keep him from telling you that he loved you."

"Think it over, my dear, and let me know your decision tomorrow morning."

This will be a very decisive evening, I said to myself, little knowing how in a very few moments everything would be decided for me. (Copyright, 1926, NEA Service, Inc. TOMORROW: Jerry Calls.

Negro Slave Marriages

Recognized by Bureau

Washington —(AP)—Slave marriages among the negroes of the South finally have been recognized by the Pension Bureau.

The case was that of Cynthia E. Brown, now living at St. Paul, Minnesota, the widow of Matthew Brown, a slave, who after he was freed enlisted with the Douglas Independent Battery, U. S. Colored Light Artillery.

The Browns were married before freedom, according to the slave custom. The widow wrote Senator Shipstead of Minnesota that after the war they were informed they would have to be married again, which they did in 1872.

The Pension Bureau had the record of that marriage. It at first declined to allow the widow an increase of

GREAT TEMPLE IN FIVE YEARS FOR MRS. McPHERSON

Sensational Success of Evangelist in Los Angeles Told

EDITOR'S NOTE: This second of three articles by Allene Sumner on the life of Aimee Semple McPherson tells how the magic of the woman evangelist's words gripped Los Angeles, and brought forth one of the greatest temples of worship in the land.

BY ALLENE SUMNER
NEA Service Writer

Two "shows" vie for the attention of tourists on the Pacific coast. One is the race tracks and gambling dens of Tia Juana. The other is the Aimee Semple McPherson religious ceremonies in Angelus Temple at Los Angeles.

Radically different in character, they are alike to the extent both are colorful, bizarre.

Both play to packed houses. The tourist learns very quickly that wedging his way into one of the 6000 free seats of Aimee McPherson's great "House That God Built" is no easy feat.

Five Busy Years

Five years ago it was that the most widely known woman evangelist of all times parked her "gospel auto" on a side street of Los Angeles. With her were her mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, and her two children. They had motored across the country from New York.

Only five years ago! But that day last May when Aimee seemed to have disappeared into the sea at Ocean Park, no less than 20,000 of her followers despaired on the shore. They commanded God to "give us a sign!"

They cast themselves into the waves, some to drown—

They sent blasts of dynamite down into the sea, watching terror-frozen for what the sea might yield—

They flew in planes over the deep, looking for their "sign!"—

They sobbed and moaned at sight of their loved prophet's green bathing cap bouncing on the waves—

Kissed it, fought to touch it—

A Mark on Heart and Soul

Thus in five years had Aimee Semple McPherson put her mark upon the heart and soul of this growing city of the coast.

The vast white hulk of her Angelus Temple crowned the hills. Aimee herself was reputed a millionaire. Her daily overhead at the temple was $11,000.

How had she done it?

It all began as that rickety "gospel auto" wheeled across the plains, Aimee, standing by the chugging engine, talking of God to bewildered crowds, begging them for "God's title."

Work-roughened hands of the farm and factory, polished-nailed hands of the professional world, dug down for Aimee.

"For my great Temple!" she told them.

She went to Los Angeles, she said, because her little daughter, Roberta, recovering from illness, asked to go where it was always sunshine and where she could have a yellow bird that would sing all the time.

No Temple at First

There was no million-dollar temple at first. Mrs. McPherson gave her dramatic movie-illustrated sermons in store rooms. Her first crowds of 10 became 500 the second time she preached. Ever larger audiences.

Larger collections. There were gifts. Huge sums of money "for God's work." A beautiful home for herself.

Meanwhile the world would not let Los Angeles have Mrs. McPherson all to itself.

The sophisticated eastern metropolitan world begged her to come to them! London, New York, even her old haunts of China begged her to come back.

She filled a London engagement and went to New York twice—first holding her revival in a remote hall, the second time down town in a fashionable sophisticated church.

Each time she returned to Los Angeles with more funds.

The Great Day

The time seemed ripe at last. Aimee made her plea and the house of God seemed built overnight.

"I'll give the paint!"

"I'll give the lumber!"

"I'll do the plumbing!"

These shouts filled her revival hall the night she told her flock of her great dream.

The towers of Angelus Temple are seen for miles about. The wires of station KFSG shine atop it.

The evangelist is as well known to listeners of this station as to those who see her in person.

Ten thousand curious, devout, thrill-loving, worshipping people crowd

Angelus Temple three times each Sunday fighting for a chance to hear their woman leader.

This in an age of churches deploring that people will not go to church! (Copyright, 1926, NEA Service, Inc.)

St. Charles Boys to Dedicate Own Theater

St. Charles, Ill.—(AP)—Nearly eight hundred boys have worked on the gigantic open-air theater which is being built on the side of a hill near the St. Charles School for Boys, during the summer. The theater will be dedicated by the Art Extension committee of the University of Illinois which will tour the state late this month.

The school is in session eleven months of the year, and each year during the month vacation, an outdoor project has been outlined by the managing officer, Frank D. Whipp. This year it was the theater.

The theater has a floor capacity of one thousand seats. A stage, with boxes on each side is under construction. Shrubbery, such as Privet hedge and Barberry is being used for landscaping. A complete electric lighting system for the stage and amphitheater will be installed.

The tiers for facing the seats are four feet wide with a rise of two inches for each tier as the floor slopes upward toward the back of the theater. At the end of the center aisle the boys have erected a unique rustic stone stairway, leading from the road behind the theater to the auditorium.

Near the theater a small park has been landscaped, consisting of lagoons walks lined with shrubbery and flower beds.

NINE PROFESSORS OF UNIVERSITY QUIT SEPTEMBER 1

Teachers, Famous at U. of I., Terminated Their Services

Urbana, Ill., Sept. 23—(AP)—Nine professors who have gained fame for themselves and the University of Illinois, in 247 aggregate years of service, terminated active teaching on the Illinois campus, Sept. 1.

Serving throughout 41 years, Professor A. N. Talbot of the division of municipal and sanitary engineering, and head of Theoretical and Applied Mechanics, watched the state university develop from a school of 352 pupils to the third largest university in the country with an enrollment of 12,395.

Thirty-five years has been the term of service both of Prof. S. W. Parr, head of the division of industrial chemistry, and of Prof. H. J. Barton, head of the department of classics, while Judge O. A. Harker, professor of Law, and legal counsel for the university, completed 28 years; Professor W. A. Noyes, head of the department of Chemistry, terminated a service of 19 years, and Prof. Julius Goebel, head of the department of German, ended a term of 18 years.

Professor Frank Smith of the Department of Zoology ends a service of thirty-three years, and Prof. Charles Spencer Crandall, Professor of pomology, ended a term of 24 years. Prof. William Trelease retired as head of the Department of Botany after a long service.

The nine men have made contributions of incalculable value in their respective fields and in the development of the University's departments. Except for four years following his graduation from the University in 1881, Professor Talbot has been a member of the Illinois faculty. He is an international authority on sanitary engineering, railway and structural stresses, on reinforced concrete, steel and brick, wherein his contributions have guided construction work throughout the world.

Professor Parr, among other things, discovered and spent more than twenty years in the development of a low temperature process for coking Illinois coal, which one authority on public utilities said would mean more to the state of Illinois than all the appropriations the state will grant to the University of Illinois in the next hundred years.

He also perfected the new metallic substance, Ilium, an alloy having acid resisting power which has made it a valuable substitute for platinum for some purpose that is finding wide usage.

Professor Barton, head of the Department of the Classics, has written many books on the classics and has served as secretary, treasurer and president of the Classical Association of the Middle West.

Judge Harker was one of the founders and chief builders of the College of Law. In 1897 he aided personally by donating half of the $2,500 that was necessary to provide equipment for the College until the legislature made an appropriation the following year. He has been president of the Illinois Bar Association and president of the Society of the American Institute of Criminal Law and Criminology.

Professor Noyes, who completes nineteen years of service, has been largely responsible for the building up of the department of chemistry until today it is one of the schools of first rank in the United States.

His calculation of the atomic weight of oxygen, the basis of almost all chemical experimentation and computation, is accepted by chemists as the best and most accurate ever made. He has accomplished other great work.

Professor Trelease has been called "one of America's foremost botanists" and is particularly well known in connection with his writings in botany.

Besides rendering a long service in the classroom, Professor Goebel, who came to the University in 1908, has to his credit a long list of literary productions. These include Goethe's Faust and Goethe's Poems, as well as numerous other books, pamphlets and magazine articles. Since 1909, he has been editor of the Journal of English and Germanic Philology.

COMPTON NEWS

Compton—Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Archer and Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Miller are spending this week in Northern Wisconsin.

W. N. Hills returned from Kansas City last Friday, where he had visited with his sister there. On his return he traveled in a bus instead of by rail.

Theodore Denikas of Waukegan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Denikas of that city, left the local hospital Wednesday, six days following an appendicitis operation. Mrs. Denikas took care of her son during his confinement.

Dorothy Kettley, three year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kettley was hurriedly brought to the hospital last Friday afternoon, suffering from an acute attack of appendicitis, with temperature of 104. The operation was very difficult to perform as the child was in a precarious condition.

Mr. Vickery and daughter of Princeton was here visiting his son George Vickery, one day last week.

An especially interesting sermon subject will be treated next Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Burg church. Mr. Johnson will speak on the subject "The Book of Jonah: Fiction or Fact?" Last Sunday Mrs. Johnson sang the beautiful hymn, "The City Four-Square." Next Sunday she will sing, "Jesus Only," playing her own accompaniment on the harp. Everybody is welcome to these services.

Glenn Clemmons is working at the J. S. Archer store in the absence of Mr. Archer.

Compton's baseball team won by a 13 to 8 score from the Welland team last Sunday afternoon. The game was staged on Cook Field. A. Choan and Walters formed the battery for the local team while Walter and Poltsch was the visitors choice for the slab duty. With consistent hitting and good pitching the local team overcame an early lead which they kept throughout the entire game.

G. G. Bauer purchased a new Hudson sedan from the Mendota agency last week.

Ed. Bloom and family of Amboy visited at the Jerry Taylor and Arthur Archer homes last Sunday.

Prospects for a winning basketball team at the Compton high school this year is evident as the season practice gets under way. More than fifteen candidates are taking daily workouts. Most of them are veterans of one or more seasons. Prof. Thompson has charge of the team as Rev. Paul G. Fricke who was expected to coach will not return to his duties here in the church for the coming year. Those who are showing up well in practice are: Walters, a rangy sophomore; Bill Archer, a veteran of two years service; Glaser, Olson and Wayne Archer, Kaufman, brother of Freeman, Augenbaugh and Don Carnahan are likely candidates who will give some of the so-called regulars a run for their jobs. Clifton Carnahan and Edwin Kohn and Arthur Croan are out fighting for a place and they look as though they will round into good relief men. The schedule has not as yet been completed but will be out within another week. This matter of arrangements are left to the officials of the Green River Valley Conference of which C. H. S. is a member.

The Camp Fire Girls under the direction of Mrs. Dee D. Thompson took breakfast out in the grove Saturday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Miller were visiting their son Gladwyn Miller at Kings, where he is principal of the high school there.

Strangest Traffic Jam in History! Boats Block Street

Here's the strangest traffic jam in any city's history. It shows the remains of a fleet of pleasure craft, moored snugly in the Fair Haven canal when the hurricane started, that were carried over into South Miami avenue, there to block the thoroughfare completely.

ated on in the Dixon Hospital Tuesday morning and is recovering as well as can be expected.

Corn Needs Fortnight of Favorable Weather

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 22—(AP)—Favorable weather for two more weeks is necessary to insure safety for the corn crop, said W. F. Feldwisch, meteorologist, in his weekly weather report here today.

"The week was warm for the season," said Mr. Feldwisch, "but as a result of excessive moisture in north and central districts, corn ripened slowly."

"Grain remaining in shocks is badly sprouted and some oats reported almost worthless. Plowing was delayed by wet soil but threshing was resumed. Cutting ensilage has begun in the south as well as haying and clover threshing."

SENATORS FROM ILLINOIS SEEM TO BE JINXED

Misfortune Has Followed Them For a Year and Half

Washington, D. C.—Just at present United States senatorships connected with Illinois are not at a premium in the political world. While most of those who play politics year in and year out are inclined to scoff at the idea of a "hoodoo," there has been successive fatality apparent in the mishaps of those who have represented Illinois in the Senate, or who aspire to, which does not attract believers in luck.

Senatorial affairs have admittedly been chaotic in Illinois during the last 18 months. Medill McCormick was found dead in bed in a hotel room in this city on February 25, 1925. William B. McKinley, who was then his colleague, is now seriously ill at Martinsville, Ind., having been in poor health since the Illinois primary last March.

Upon McCormick's death Senator Charles S. Deneen, who had defeated him in the primary, came to Washington to serve out the few days of the McCormick term before his own began and he was stricken with a severe attack of neuritis, which kept him confined to a bed of pain for several days. And Deneen, since that time has been a sick man on several occasions, although he had experienced only the best of health before assuming the Illinois toga in the upper chamber.

Smith Undergoes Operation
And the ghost of ill luck which stalked McCormick, McKinley and Deneen has not stopped with the incumbent. Col. Frank L. Smith was laid low shortly after he had defeated Senator McKinley for renomination and was obliged to undergo a serious operation, from which he has been recuperating for several months.

He has turned to Illinois to enter upon his campaign for election only to find that his rival, George E. Brennan, of Chicago, who up until a few days ago was the only major participant in the recent senatorial rivalry still in good health, has been taken to a hospital as a result of a knee injury sustained in a fall which may confine him for two weeks or more.

Brennan's Hurt Not Serious
Brennan's hurt is not serious of itself, according to the statements of surgeons, but it serves to give the superstitious observers watching the sequence of senatorial events in Illinois a chance to say "I told you so."

All the bad luck of the candidates was not confined to physical ailments, either, for the senatorial investigation of campaign expenditures in July and August involved both of them, and tended to add something more to their worries.

The cause of the ill fate which seems to be pursuing Illinois senators and candidates cannot be pointed to with certainty, but it serves to prove that the senatorship is not a post to which an idler may well aspire. The gruelling grind of campaigning in that state has been directly or indirectly responsible for the misfortunes which overtook McKinley, Smith and Brennan and is blamed as well by many for the McCormick tragedy.

Hard Work and Long Hours
The campaign does not end the strain placed upon a successful candidate for the United States senatorship in Illinois. The sessions of the upper chamber at Washington involve hard work and long hours, and much of the labor performed by the senators is of the tedious, worrying variety. Arthur terms at Washington preceded McCormick's death and McKinley's illness, tending to weaken them physically and destroy their reserve energy. In some respects, the honors accompanying the toga are not all they are supposed to be.

Dobbin Recovering His Place in Sun

Champaign, Ill., Sept. 21.—(AP)—Dobbin is fast recovering the place in the sun from which he has long been obscured by clouds of monoxide. The University of Illinois council of administration is the reason.

During the summer that governing body placed a ban against the student car, effective Sept. 15. The blow well nigh stunned the student body. It took the 11,000 or more students who are registering today for the fall term almost a week to recover from the blow.

Today it happened. Past the registration lines this morning, stalked a spavined old gray mare. Behind it, creaking in every wheel, wobbled a carriage. In the carriage rode eight students, members of Sigma Phi Sigma fraternity. The one livery stable in Champaign-Urbana has booked orders ahead for two weeks.

The full moon nearest to September 21 is popularly known as the "harvest moon," because it rises for several consecutive evenings at nearly the same time, giving an unusual number of moonlight nights.

The light from the sun is 8 minutes and 8 seconds old when it reaches us. And light travels at the rate of 186,200 miles a second.

England will never be able to produce more than half the quantity of wheat required for home consumption, authorities say.

There are about 170,000 men and women in prisons in the United States.

Greenland, with an area of 827,300 square miles, is the largest island in the world.

Says Finger Print Signatures Would Stop Vote Frauds

Joliet, Ill., Sept. 22.—(AP)—Pointing out that a finger print signature would prevent election frauds such as were charged in recent elections, W. L. Petty, state superintendent of identification at the Stateville prison, advocated universal fingerprint registration.

Writing in the state "Welfare" magazine which will soon go to press, Mr. Petty, who has charge of more than 40,000 finger print records, said that western cattle, thoroughbred cattle and automobiles are easily identified, while "many human beings are buried in unknown graves each year through inability of the authorities to identify them."

"If the election laws," he said, "were so amended that the voter would be compelled to register his thumb print beside his signature, he could have no doubt. The honest man need have no fear of having his finger prints taken—it is his protection. There are many cases on record where finger prints cleared the innocent victim."

"After the Civil war it took the government two years, at a cost of $40,000 to prove the identity of one soldier. If finger prints had been used at that time it would have only taken about two minutes. All the soldiers and sailors enlisted for the world war were fingerprinted."

When the Tuscania, one of the United States transports, was sunk off the Irish coast, he said the finger print records at Washington helped to identify all the bodies recovered. Petty advocated the fingerprinting of every school child and the filing of records in the county court.

State Beautifying Sahokis Mound Park

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 22.—(AP)—Contracts have been let for beautifying the 144 acres comprising Cahokia Mound Park. The ground will be broken and seeded. Roads will be constructed to and around the lake and mounds. The small lake on the south side of the grounds will be deepened and at this site an up-to-date tourist camping ground will be laid out, making it possible for visitors to have every convenience and comfort.

Governor Small has instructed the Department of Public Works and Buildings to push this work as rapidly as possible, and to arrange for early construction of the second state bond issue road to this park.

No changes will be made in the Mounds, of which The Great Cahokia Mound, or "Monks Mound," is easily the largest prehistoric, artificial earth work in the United States, and is to the "Mound Builders" what the Great Pyramids were to the Pharaohs of Egypt. Its height is 99 feet and it covers 16 acres. It has been figured that it would have required the services of 2400 builders working ten hours every day for two years to collect and pile up the material in this large hill with its flat top and terraces. It is called Monks Mound because the order of Trappist Monks in 1804 built a mission there.

IN NEW YORK

New York—Here's your daily irony: Near the foot of Fifth Avenue is the old Mark Twain residence, and every good rubber-neck wagon knows. It has long since been split into two-room apartments that are rented out at prices exceedingly reasonable considering the historic nature of the building. I am told that that taxes of property at that particular point are so steep that the old mansion will be torn down one of these days to make room for another 20-story apartment hotel, although frequent efforts have been made to preserve the building.

The other day a young woman who grinds out stories for the fiction mills went apartment hunting. She heard of a vacancy in the Mark Twain house. The agent took her to one of the high ceilinged rooms and explained: "Now this is the room in which Twain wrote."

"The Mysterious Stranger"

The young woman grabbed it up. Today the clatter of her typewriter may be heard hour upon hour, tearing off the tales that enjoy popular demand at present.

"I find the room very inspirational," she told me the other day as she finished a chapter with the following words: "Flora found herself melting in his arms. Her lips burned to meet his, trembling like rose petals in the wind. For a moment he hesitated, then, with the suddenness of storm, his passion broke."

Whereupon, I have no doubt, the late M. Twain turned over thrice in his grave murmured, "Thank God, it's to be continued."

Speaking of thing literary: The New York Public Library has a room devoted to financial information. Here potential speculators in Wall Street may come and find anything they wish concerning the ratings of stocks, the standing of concerns, the histories of the companies and such like.

A squad of clerks are kept busy from morning 'til night handing out information and volumes to the scores of men and women who then sit with scratch pad and paper figuring out the percentages, much as race track followers pour over form charts.

Frequently one may be seen to rise and rush out—probably to hasten an order to his broker.

While down upon the first floor throngs gather in the newspaper room to await the coming of the home town papers, scanning the columns for a familiar name, chuckling over some item about an old friend. Then, one by one, they go Jonesome back into the streets.

MAJOR TO VIEW SCRAP FROM ALL ANGLES THIS EVE

Hits Upon Novel Plan to Enable Him to Circle the Ring

BY THE MAJOR HOOPLE
Former Sports Editor of the Bombay
India Relief

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 23.—Egad, folks, Senator McFadden, myself and a few governors arrived in a special motor party to Philadelphia, the scene of this evening's renowned fistic tournament. Now that I am here, nothing remains to assure the exhibition of being a success with the exception of the non-appearance of either William Harrison Dempsey or James J. Tunney.

In which case I will climb into the arena and issue a challenge to any member of either political party, or member of any lodge, singing society, and debating club, to face me in a skillful contest of long-distance breath holding, catch weights, spelling bees, junkfrau yodeling in three keys, or blowing smoke rings, plain and fancy, egad!

It has always been my belief that to be consistent with one's art, one should make sacrifices; therefore I am doing something this evening that no other sport expert would think of doing. I am giving up a perfectly good ringside seat in trade for the privilege of being a hot-dog vendor.

Him-m, I can see the expression of doubt in your eyes. But it is quite true, me friends. When I explain this seemingly ridiculous situation, I dare say you will see the logic of it, egad.

From Every Angle.
I truly feel that in order to give an accurate account of the match, I should see it from every angle. There is only one person who views it in a like manner, and that is the referee. So my theory as a vendor of hot dogs is this—I will be in an easy position to encircle the ring crying my wares, and at the same time seeing the boys from every viewpoint, egad.

Don't you think that a bally clever idea? But remember, now, what I have just told you is confidential. I do not want the other members of the press to learn my strategy.

My word, think what a spectacle it would be if they carried out the same idea, which no doubt they most certainly would. Imagine 500 gentlemen of the press, garbed as hot-dog vendors, hurrying and scurrying this way and that, around the outside area of the ring. Great Caesar, the mental picture of it is likened unto distorted creation of a mind in the clutches of hashish, egad.

Sent Wires Collect.

I have seen the milling crowds in the bazars of Arabia, the stampede of the multitude in London, and the pilgrimage to Mecca at its heaviest, but Philadelphia on this particular day dwarfs them all into insignificance.

I applied for room space in every hotel and my telegrams for reservations were completely ignored. Egad, I sent 20 of them collect. Of course I had scores of invitations to share quarters with many a high name, cabinet members, governors, bankers, etc. But the Hoople coat of arms carries the sign of the lone wolf. I must have privacy and seclusion.

There is not even enough space in any hotel. After much seeking I finally located a phone booth in the Broad street railway station that had a phone out of order. That will be my retreat for the night, egad.

By the bye, folks, remember my graphic description of the contest tonight will be the top cream of this series. So bribe your news dealer in advance.

SIDELIGHTS

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Extra base knocks by Cardinals at the expense of three Robin twirlers virtually clinched the National League pennant for St. Louis. The Reds were idle and by winning the Hornsby gang increased their lead to two and one half games.

A brace of homers, five triples and three doubles figured in the collection of 17 blows made by the Cardinals against Brooklyn.

Joe Poutz, right hand rookie pitcher from the Portsmouth club of the Virginia League, worked seven innings for the Giants against the Cubs and allowed only five hits but two of these were homers by Hartnett and Scott which helped give Chicago the victory.

Helene Marush of the Tigers who went into a slump after getting to the top of the ladder of American League hitters, recovered his batting eye at the expense of the Athletics and cracked out three hits in five times at bat.

PARLOR IS GARAGE

London—A resident of Muswell hill found himself with a house of 12 rooms on his hands but no garage and no room on his property to build one. So he remodeled the front, built an attractive drive, and changed his parlor into a garage.

RUNNERS-UP IN BOTH LEAGUES TAKE COURAGE

Cleveland Now Couple of Games Behind the Yankees

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Hopes of second place teams in the major leagues rose a bit today in the wake of a spurt that placed Cleveland within two games of the Yankees who lead the American League.

Taking courage from the last ditch stand of Tris Speaker, Cincinnati returns to the struggle after a day of leisure that saw St. Louis swamp Brooklyn 15-7 and boost its lead in the National League to two and one half games.

The Yankees today needed to win only two more games to insure a tie for the pennant even though Cleveland should win all four of its remaining games.

The standings:
American Won Lost ToPlay Pct.
New York 89 61 4 .593
Cleveland 87 64 4 .580
National
St. Louis 88 63 3 .583
Cincinnati 85 63 4 .567

One more victory in the three games remaining will guarantee the Cardinals a tie for first even though Cincinnati should win four.

The fight has caused some rearrangements of games.

The Cardinals and New York play Friday instead of today.

Chicago and Brooklyn will have a doubleheader Sunday.

Tunney Stayed in His Camp Until This A. M.

Stroudsburg, Penn., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Gene Tunney was called today to start for Philadelphia where he hopes to be crowned king of the heavyweight boxers tonight. The hour had been concealed carefully and few were aware that he was setting forth. The start for the battle ground was postponed until this morning so that the contender might be assured a night of calm repose. Tunney has an aversion to strange beds.

The ceremony of weighing in before the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission was at the end of the four hour drive to Philadelphia. The Marine entry planned to hide himself from the curious until he makes his appearance tonight.

Suzanne Lenglen is Keen for Dempsey in Big Bout

Havre, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Suzanne is keen for Jack Dempsey to defeat Gene Tunney.

"I do hope Mr. Dempsey is victorious over Mr. Tunney" she said. "He is such a refined gentleman, I really don't know where people get that man-eating idea about him. While Mr. and Mrs. Dempsey were in Paris I had luncheon with them and if Mr. Dempsey's ring tactics are as nice as his table manners he is sure to win."

Hope to Begin "Little World Series" Today

Des Moines, Iowa, Sept. 23.—(AP)—The opening tilt of the "little world series" will be played here this afternoon, unless more rain causes another postponement.

The first of the post season games between the Des Moines Western League champions and Springfield, titleholders of the Three Eye League, could not be played yesterday because of a sloppy field, but the postponement did not alter the plans to move on to Springfield to finish the series there.

VARIED CARD IS ON BILL IN NEXT CHICAGO RING SHOW

Callahan vs Walker to Be Feature Thursday Evening

Chicago, Sept. 23.—Promoter Jim Mullen, after showing a series of bantam and lightweight fights, will present a card of welters, middleweights and light heavies at his next big league boxing show at the Cub's Park here, Thursday night, Sept. 30. The card will be headed by a ten round bout to a referee's decision between Mickey Walker, former welterweight champion of the world and Shuffie Callahan of Chicago, called the hardest hitter in the world.

Callahan has had the most sensational rise of any boxer in the game. A year ago, he was practically unknown. Today he is one of the most talked of fighters in the game. His rise from obscurity to a position at the top reads like a dime novel. Shuffie stated off last winter by knocking out Teddy Gartin of Denver. He proved that this was no mistake by knocking out Johnny Mendelsohn of Milwaukee. The fans began to sit up and take notice and Morris Schaffer was matched with Callahan, only to be knocked out in the same manner as the others.

Following the Schaffer knockout, Jim Mullen signed Bobby Barrett of Philadelphia to go against Callahan. Barrett had been known as the hardest hitter in the business, and many predicted the finish of Callahan. Instead of losing, as even his best friends predicted, Shuffie knocked out Barrett in one round. Callahan then was matched with Tommy Freeman at Cleveland and lost. He came right back to the East Chicago Arena and knocked out Nate Goldmann of Philadelphia, one of the ranked welters in the east. Shuffie then stopped Dan Gasparo at the White Sox Park and is in training now to meet Walker.

Walker has been up in the mountains since losing the title and is pronounced in the greatest condition of his career. Jack Kearns, who handles Mickey, predicts that his boy will regain the championship in six months and accepted the Callahan bout as the first step in fighting his way back to the title. He has certainly picked a tough one in Shuffie and many Chicago fans are banking on the home boy to spill the beans and atop Walker.

Harry Dillon, the most sensational light heavyweight in the game at the present moment, meets Joe Woods, coast 175-pounder in one of the tens on the card the thirtieth.

Volcott Langford, Chicago's colored middleweight sensation meets Alentown Joe Gans in the fourths ten on the card.

Belgian's Crown Prince Favors Tunney to Win

Brussels, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Crown Prince Leopold believes Gene Tunney will defeat Jack Dempsey.

On the eve of departure for Stockholm to visit Princess Astrid, his fiancée, the prince made arrangements for the result of the fight to be wired him as soon as received. Leopold never misses a big bout in Belgium. In 1919 he sat in General Pershing's box when Gene won the army lightweight championship.

"I never saw Dempsey fight," said the prince, "but any man defeating Tunney must be a world beater and deserves to be champion of the world."

Eureka's Permanent Endowment Doubled

Mt. Carmel, Ill., Sept. 23.—(AP)—The annual report of Eureka college made by President Bert Wilson, to the convention of the Disciples of Christ showed the institution had a permanent endowment fund of $650,000, more than double the amount four years ago. The annuity fund has nearly doubled in the past two years and is now nearly $200,000.

Buildings and grounds, Pres. Wilson said, are valued at $350,000 and ground will be broken next February for a girls' dormitory, to cost $30,000, the gift of Mr. George Gunzenhauser of Chicago.

The last college year, Pres. Wilson said, showed 336 students in the Liberal Arts and music departments.

ZUPPKE GRILLS STEWART FOR A BACKFIELD POST

Loss of Timm Through Injury Causes Zap to Change Plans

Urbana, Ill., Sept. 23.—"Bud" Stewart of Battleground, Ill., is a prospect for the place in the University of Illinois backfield, made vacant temporarily at least by the disability of Jud Timm, sophomore back.

Timm, it is feared, is shelved until the Pennsylvania game, Oct. 30. Therefore, the backfield must be reconstructed and Coach Bob Zuppke is hard at work to find the best man to lineup with Daugherty, Lanum and Peters.

Stewart, who won his letter as a pitcher on the varsity baseball team last season, also was a member of the football squad. He was a reserve back but got a chance in several games. His best playing was done against Wabash when he tore off some pretty runs. "Bud" lacked experience but had much promise. Until Timm was disabled, he was a member of the second set of backs which was fast enough company since his companions were all letter men, Green, Leonard and Callivan.

These veterans, of course, are also possibilities for the Timm vacancy. But it is evident that Stewart will be strongly considered.

The Illini have shaken off the gloom produced by the accident to Timm which ruined Zuppke's "Four Mule" combination and figure that with Daugherty, Lanum and Peters as three backs, "Zup" will dig up a good enough companion for them to make the outfit formidable.

The Coe game, Oct. 2, will be the crucible in which Stewart and other prospects are tested.

KENTUCKY CLUB RACE WILL BE MEET FEATURE

Will Likely Show the Leaders of Two-Year- Olds of Year

Louisville, Sept. 23.—(AP)—The Kentucky Jockey Club Stakes, with $10,000 added, may be the medium for settling the question of two-year-old supremacy of the turf during the autumn racing season beginning Sept. 25.

The mile race, to be run at Churchill Downs, offers the juvenile who captures it an opportunity to claim none of the youngsters thus far has decisively established his right.

Hopeful Contestants
Lord Chaucer's triumph in the Hopeful at Saratoga was not convincing. He benefitted greatly by a weight concession but displayed a finish that leads turfmen to believe that he will fancy a route such as the Stakes.

Scapa Flow, a son of Man O'War, on his showing in the Hopeful, probably will be among the favorites in the stake race. Tergament, who roughed Scapa Flow in that race, also showed a meritorious performance. Other Eastern crack juveniles that loom formidably in the probable field are J. B. Widener's Klev and Chance Shot, and Candy Queen and Pantella.

The eastern horde will not be without formidable opposition from the west in the final stake race. Among the western juveniles are E. R. Bradley's Buddy Bauer and Bewithus; Johnson N. Camden's Nor'easter and Khalifa. E. B. McLean's Sport Trail and Jock, and Torchilla, Derringer, Krick, General Haldeman and Dr. Washington. These colts have been racing well their first year out.

Lincoln College Has Grid Team of Veterans

Lincoln, Ill., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Lincoln College will start football this year with a veteran backfield and ends and a green line, Athletic Director Woleben said today.

George Kerns of Waverly, Illinois, is captain. He is a junior in school, played halfback his first year and fullback last year. Weighing only 160 pounds he is a good plunger, stocky and hard to bring down, has a cool head, and is a vicious tackler. Above all he has proven to be a Natural leader. To everyone on the campus he is known as "Dependable."

Other veterans are Guisenberry, of Lincoln, Ill., halfback, a sprinter in track, Hurst of Warren, Ill., halfback; McCullough of Atlanta, Ill., fullback; Conner of Beason, Ill., halfback; Prince of Princeton, and Watt of Atlanta; Tackle and Cutlip of Lincoln, guard.

Substitutes returning are Earhart of Bridgeport, half; Bob Cox of Beul, end, Woodward of Lincoln, Grove of Lincoln and Reipschloger of Taylorville, guards, and James of Atlanta, end.

One tackle and center are open, and the guard candidates returning are all light in weight.

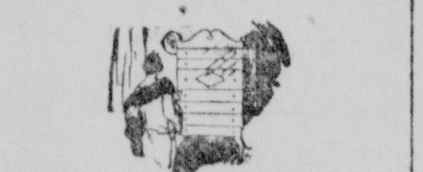

The entire squad numbers thirty and is quite light, averaging around 155 pounds.

G. A. R. WILL GO DOWN WITH ITS "COLORS FLYING"

No Amalgamation With Any Other Order is Being Considered

Des Moines, Iowa, Sept. 23.—(AP)—John B. Inman, Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, delivering his report at the 60th annual G. A. R. encampment here today, declared the organization would not combine with any other, nor cease to function now, "but go down with colors flying."

"For all," he said, "the end of the long trail is nearing. But we must march on and on to the fulfillment and completion of our patriotic course. We do not wish to amalgamate with any other society; we have taken our place in the history of the Republic; we know the task we were set to do and know that we did it. The Grand Army of the Republic always has been right. We must go down with colors flying; and we beseech as did they of old, 'Let thy servants depart in peace.'"

"And now the time is come when the mantle of greatness must be placed upon other shoulders. I will say au-revoir but not good-bye for I hope to meet and greet you in other encampments, so long as I am able to make my pilgrimage to these sacred shrines. I did the best that I knew; would that I could have done better."

"It has been a year of intermingled sorrow and joy. Sorrow at the stupendous number of comrades who have crossed over, and rejoicing in the thought that the deeds of these men forever shall stand out in bold relief on the escutcheon of the Nation's greatness."

Ambition Realized
"My supreme ambition was to see passed our exclusive Civil War pension bill. On July 3, 1926, such a measure was signed by the President and became a law. The estimated cost for the first year is $16,000,000 for the increase. The saving of the $72 rating which remains undisturbed is one of the high points, as about half of the survivors already are in the classification, and the balance are being accepted as their falling strength entitles them to such consideration."

"The increase of the $50 comrades to $65 is a substantial raise. I was surprised that 26,000 widows survive—who were the wives of Union Soldiers while they were in the Civil War service. They get $20. The Army Nurses get $50."

"A resolution passed Congress and was signed by the President June 17, 1926, instructing the War Department to accept from the Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic a tablet showing the Logan General Order establishing Memorial Day, inscribed thereon, to be located in the Amphitheatre of Arlington National Cemetery, Virginia."

Memorial Considered
"The selection of the spot for the tablet now is being considered. The size will be about 6 by 4 1/2 feet and the National Women's Relief Corps has agreed to place funds for the entire expense in the hands of the commander as soon as an estimate can be determined by the committee, which consists of the Secretary of War, Secretary of the Navy and the Fine Arts Commission, in connection with the committee of the Grand Army of the Republic."

"As the years roll on, the importance of this tablet will grow as one of the great sideights along our

BUREAU CO. FAIR NEARS FINANCIAL ROCKS THIS YEAR

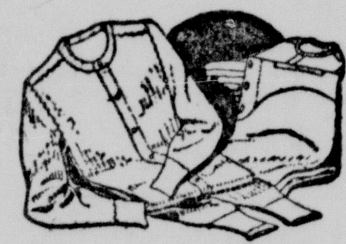

Future of Show to be Decided at Meeting Early in October

Princeton—Annual meeting of the Bureau County Fair Association will be held October 9, and until that date the fair is in the morgue and the postmortem of its very existence is being held. There is a deficit of approximately $17,500 of which $4,500 is curtailed gate receipts of this year when rain spoiled the fair. There is a $12,000 mortgage on the fair grounds and buildings falling due early in 1927 and bankers are unwilling to extend credit.
A committee of board members, President John Becker, Almer Ioder, W. W. Wilson, county farm adviser, J. B. Monier, J. C. Sitterly and Thomas Drayton are reviewing the situation and will make some decision as to the calling off of the fair or its continuance at the October meeting. By selling the property the board could clear the debt mortgage, but sentiment about the county is to continue the fair which for seventy-one years has been a county institution.
The financial difficulties experienced by the Bureau county fair are not peculiar to Bureau county for out of eighty-eight county and district fairs held in the state for the last two years, fifty ran behind financially. Bureau county fair board hoped to be on a paying basis this year and could have been had the fair not been rained out. Its destiny will be decided next month.

Henry M. Hey has been chosen to head the board of directors of the local Y. M. C. A. for the coming year. At the regular meeting of the directors of the association held last evening at the Y a large amount of business was taken up. Present work and finances as brought out in the secretary's report made a very creditable showing for the past summer. The election for the coming year resulted in the following officers being elected:

President—H. M. Hey.
Vice President—C. A. Buchner.
Secretary—E. C. Dutcher.
Treasurer—Dr. R. E. Worsley.
Mr. Hey is well fitted for the position of president, having headed two of the most successful campaigns the local association has ever held. ## Telegraph Company Gave Fine Service

The Western Union Telegraph Co. is justly proud of its preparation for the storm emergency in Florida, for as a result of sending seven line crews into Florida and five to Mobile on storm warnings from the U. Over the week end, it is claimed, the Miami telegraph office was the only illuminated building on Flagler street, electricity there and at the Miami Beach office being supplied by emergency gasoline engine equipment, which is now a standard feature of all important telegraph offices.

The company stated today that extra wires were restored this morning from West Palm Beach to Miami; that New York has three channels to Miami and cable connections with Miami Beach, via Key West; and that Atlanta has nine channels to Miami. But nine night letters and press dispatches were sent from West Palm Beach up to 11 o'clock last evening a slowing up of urgent traffic.

SIX COWS HAVE MEMBERSHIP IN 500 POUND CLUB

Other Dairy Animals of State Expected to Qualify

Urbana, Ill., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Six Illinois dairy cows already have distinguished themselves by winning membership in the Illinois 500 pound butterfat club and prospects now are that a number of other cows will get under the wire before the allotted year is up, according to a progress report just issued by C. S. Rhode, dairy extension specialist of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois, at the end of the first eight months. This is the second year for the club. It was started by the agricultural college for the purpose of demonstrating that good breeding, proper feeding and careful management pave the way for profitable milk and butterfat yields. A gold medal is awarded to the owner of every cow that produces 500 or more pounds of butterfat in a year.

A grade Holstein in the herd of W. F. Sipp, Peoria, showed the way to the 500 cows that were nominated for a membership this year. Her record at the end of the first eight months is 18,147 pounds of milk containing 606.9 pounds of butterfat. Close behind is a purebred Holstein owned by W. R. Angle, Dakota, Stephens county, that produced 581.8 pounds of fat in eight months.

Angle also has another cow in his herd that already has a membership. Third place is held by a purebred Holstein in the herd of Adam Pan, cake, Ransom, LaSalle county. She finished the eight months with a record of 573.6 pounds of fat. Fredrickson & Nyström Brothers, Joliet, and H. C. Horneman, Danville, are the owners of the other two cows which have won memberships.

The end of the first eight months in the year allotted to the cows finds 69 of them with 375 or more pounds of butterfat to their credit, according to Rhode's report. McLean and DuPage counties each claim nine of these high producers, while eight of them come from Will county, seven of them from Lee, six each from Stephenson and McHenry counties and five from Carroll, Peoria and Kane counties each claim four of the 69. Vermillion county places three of them, LaSalle and Knox two each and Ogles, JoDaviess, Kankakee and Moultrie counties one each.

Why Overland's amazing Price Cuts are possible

- on the two most successful cars of their size and price class

Retail sales during July and August were the largest in Willys-Overland history. Over 39,000 were sold in these two months.

The original Whippet production schedule laid out in July called for 500 cars a day. Within 60 days it has been increased to 650. And now, at these amazing new low prices we anticipate a volume of 1000 Whippets a day—and from every present indication it will be quickly attained.

Sales of the Overland Six have also been gaining in tremendous volume. Over 60,000 were made last year. Each month sees another record broken. And at these startling, low prices we believe Overland Six production will reach over 100,000 this year.

Big volume makes low prices possible. Low prices bring big volume. This in brief is the economic reason behind this amazing price reduction.

If orders are placed at once prompt deliveries can be made. The time to buy is NOW!

PAPER FROM CORN STALKS MAY HELP SOLVE PROBLEMS

Reduction of Cost of Paper and Elimination of Borers

By NEA Service

Chicago.—The lowly corn stalk promises to do in a short time what years of work in behalf of timber conservation has accomplished but in small part.

This is the conclusion of scientists after a study of experiments for making paper from corn stalks at Iowa State College at Ames, Ia.

Not only may the use of corn stalks aid in the stabilization of corn belt agriculture, but it is also likely to be a boon to paper makers by providing them with a new and much needed source of raw material, as well as a saving of the nation's timber resources from further depletion because of the demands on it by the wood pulp paper industry.

Dr. O. R. Sweeney, department head of the college and a noted authority on poison gas, and P. H. Tan, a Chinese student working for his master's degree at the college, have been busy on these experiments for some time. They are confident that within a year their process of paper manufacture will have reached a high point where it can be used for commercial production.

Already they have succeeded in producing several grades of paper from corn stalks, ranging all the way from the lowest grades of box paper up to writing paper. Cooked liquors which are the by-products of corn stalk paper making, furnish a strong adhesive material, easily recoverable and which can be used in the making of box-board, in bill posting and for such other uses as require a good adhesive, they say.

The use of this new material for paper making would give cornstalks, now waste, a value of $5 a ton. It would also destroy the winter hibernating home of the corn borer—the corn stalk in the field. It would halt the present rapid depletion of American forests and produce news print and other forms of commercial paper at considerably less cost.

Corn stalks require only 11 days for seasoning as against nine months to two years for pulp. Only one hour of "cooking" is necessary for corn pulp as against 48 hours for wood. Corn stalk paper takes ink satisfactorily without the expense of gluing or sizing necessary for wood paper manufacture.

With the utilization of the corn stalk in commerce, following on top of the recently announced discovery of an industrial use for 20,000,000 tons of corn cobs, corn becomes one of the most useful crops known to man.

From it will be made news print and writing paper, sugar, sirup, animal food, meals and flours, oils and fat, starch, glucose materials, fuel and glue.

OBITUARY
Frank D. Gehant was born January 29, 1879 on the farm in Bradford township, Lee county, Illinois, being the second son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Gehant. His childhood was spent at hard work and snatching a few months of schooling in the dull winter season. As a young man he became acquainted with Mary C. Henry, a popular young lady of Viola township and a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leopold Henry. Their friendship grew until on June 7, 1892 a happy wedding took place at St. Mary's Church, West Brooklyn.

They took up farming operations for themselves in Bradford township and then moved to Iowa where they remained but a few years, when they returned and purchased the stock and equipment of a local store and went into the mercantile business.

About the year 1900 he left the mercantile business to accept a position as cashier of the H. F. Gehant Banking Co. He very capably filled the position and the new bank grew rapidly. After twelve years of indoor work he began to show signs of ill health and a favorable opportunity at Viola, Ill., presented itself in the hardware and plumbing business and he resigned his cashiership and moved his family to that place.

He readily gained the good will and praise of the people by his kindness, hospitality and thoughtfulness of others. In 1915 he had an option on the hardware store here and returned to his old home town, much to the pleasure of its inhabitants. In 1923 he was offered a position as plumbing inspector for the C. B. & Q. railroad, accepted and moved to Aurora where he could better look after the work.

Purchasing a residence at 227 Fox St. he continued in the employ of the railroad until the fore part of August when he submitted to an operation for stomach trouble.

He continued to improve for several weeks until pleurisy set in and he gradually grew weaker and passed to his eternal reward about midnight Sept. 14, 1926.

Funeral services were held from St. Mary's church at Aurora Friday morning at 10 o'clock and were attended by over one hundred friends and relatives from his former residence.

deceses. Rev. Father Schlotz officiated at the ceremony and was assisted by Father McGuire of Aurora and Father Quinn of West Brooklyn. The pall bearers were F. W. Meyer, F. H. Delhotel, W. H. Glaser, W. J. Long, J. H. Michel and Charles Barr. Interment was made at Mt. Olivette cemetery.

Savage Seris Tribe is Now Passing Away

Nogales, Ariz., —(AP)—Eradication faces another of the western hemisphere's fiercest and war-like tribes.

From the time of Spanish conquistadores, until within the past two decades, the Seris, a savage tribe on an island just off the coast of Sonora, Mexico, have defied the advances of armed forces and the olive branch tendered by the white man or by native tribes. Living on their diet of "powdered dried straw and raw meats", as described by Alvar Nuez Cabeza de Vaca, a Spanish military explorer, in 1536, the hardy tribe of savages held aloof, content with its barren island and existence.

Bloody wars were waged for nearly two centuries, but their submission was never more than superficial. Thousands of troops fell before their arrows, scores of daring missionaries were stoned to death, and as late as 1836 two navigators were killed in an attempt to explore Seriland.

Of late years the few remaining members have become strangely docile. The tribe, now numbering but 125, has retrograded into a race of almost imbecile, meek alma-seekers, delighted to guide fishermen who now walk peacefully along the shores of Kino Bay.

Wisconsin Candidate in Peculiar Position

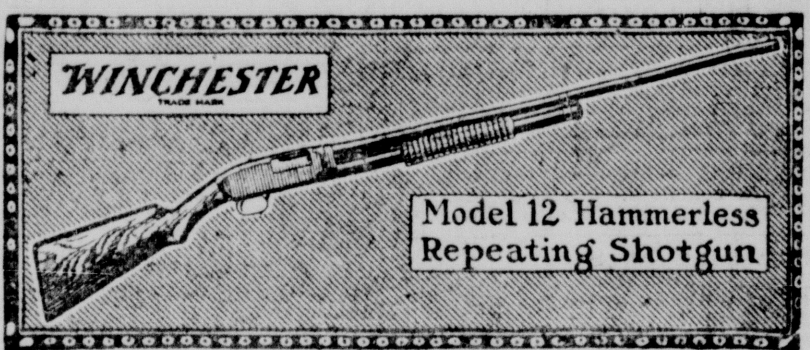

Madison, Wis., Sept. 22.—(AP)—Secretary of State F. R. Zimmerman, republican gubernatorial nominee today faced a campaign for election on a platform conceived by the Blaine-Ekern forces whose opposition he crushed in the recent primary.

The Blaine-Ekern faction of the republican party were victorious over the Zimmerman supporters in the republican state platform convention which closed last night. Confronted with seeking election on a platform which he partly opposes, Mr. Zimmerman had the alternative of repudiating the declaration and conducting his fight on his pre-primary declarations. Both Governor Blaine and his predecessor, Governor Philipp followed this course.

Condemnation of the Ku Klux Klan, the Anti-Saloon League and the World Court are included in the platform which criticizes the national administration as "reactionary and hostile towards labor."
